LIVING CHRISTMAS TREE — The voices of 75 will greet holiday celebrants attending the Skyline Wesleyan Church on 3 days in December from a 35-foot high Christmas Tree. The presentation will be at 6:30 and 8:30 on December 18 and 19 and at 3:30, 6:30 and 8:30 on December 17. The church is at 1345 Skyline dr. in Lemon Grove. The programs are open to the public but tickets are required to control the flow of music lovers. A $2 donation is requested. The tree is composed of 1,200 pounds of tree boughs on 4 tons of scaffolding. The tree carries 600 tree lights over 48 circuits using 85,000 watts of energy. The vocalists use 75 microphones. For advance tickets call 460-5000.

Bob Guest

Guest Returns To Lemon Grove As Mgr-VP SDT&S

Bob Guest, former manager and vice president of the Crocker National Bank in Lemon Grove is back in town again.

He resigned from Crocker in September after serving in Lemon Grove since 1970—first with the U.S. National Bank and with Crocker when that organization was named receiver for USN facilities by FDIC (Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.).

He was then invited to join San Diego Trust and Savings and accepted. He was appointed manager and vice president of SDT&S's of Lemon Grove facility at Broadway and Massachusetts on November 15.

Guest had been popular and busy during his service with Crocker. He was president of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club, and the 2-time president of L.G. Chamber of Commerce. He was also E. County chairman of United Way/CHAD in 1973 and 1976. He was selected to the UW/CHAD board of directors in 1977. He was a charter member of L.G.'s Town Hall in 1976.

He said he expected to continue activities in civic affairs of Lemon Grove.

Ban of Candy Sales On Campuses Delayed By School Board

By Sharon Yaap

Action on the possibility of eliminating candy sales on Lemon Grove school campuses was deferred by the L.G. School District Board Tuesday night until input from the district's schools could be heard. It will be heard at the next board meeting on December 12.

Citing an inconsistency between the school curriculum and nutrition guidelines and the sale of candy on campus, board member Chuck Pennell asked for a delay on the decision until he had a chance to ascertain what the community's feeling is.

The board's concern was with organizations such as booster clubs which often use students to sell candy on campus.

Board member Carol Chubb pointed out that fund-raising by groups would have to be approved by the board in accordance with guideline adopted earlier in Tuesday's meeting.

School Superintendent Dr. Bob Sutton acknowledged that PTA carnivals and candy sales were difficult areas to deal with and that federal legislation is being developed to deal with such nutritional matters.

In another board matter, school business manager Leona Bowersox reported the school district's federal dependents had decreased from 606 to 526, but that the school would suffer no loss of income since federal funding for such students had been increased.

CB, 8-Track Devices Stolen From Truck

When Jess Eugene Thompson got ready to use his pickup truck on the morning of November 21, he found the door unlocked—by way of a coathanger.

Thompson, who lives at 444 Grand ave., Spring Valley, observed that his 8-track tape player, his CB radio and whip antenna were missing. The coathanger was left on the floor of the cab. His loss, he said, totaled $200.

Collections Clerk G'Mont Hospital Employee of Month

Virginia Robinson has been chosen as employee of the month at Grossmont Hospital for November. She serves as senior collection clerk and has been with the hospital for over 14 years.

She first started as a "pre-admission credit clerk", checking on the ability of patients to pay before they were admitted to the hospital. She now works at the other end of the system, trying to collect unpaid bills after patients have gone home.

"When I first came to work at Grossmont, there were only two people handling collections, now because of the increase in number of patients, there are five people handling unpaid accounts," Mrs. Robinson said. The hospital has recently doubled in capacity to 400 beds and become one of the three largest hospitals in San Diego County.

Although she was hired during the years that age discrimination was not uncommon, she cited the fact that she was 49 and a widow as the primary reasons she was hired. "My boss (who is no longer with the hospital) said he wanted someone he didn't have to worry about becoming pregnant."

The mother of five children, Mrs. Robinson lives in La Mesa, with one son at home. They have been residents of La Mesa for 15 years.

She is in her second year of bowling with the Grossmont Hospital Employee's League. She is a past secretary of the employee's association and was secretary of the first Employee's Liaison Committee.

S.D. Contractor Wants L.G. City To Change Trash Franchise Policy

George Bagdasarian, of San Diego, operator of the S.D. Refuse Co., said this week that he did not ask the City of Lemon Grove for a franchise to operate his trash trucks in the city.

"I asked for open competition licensing," he said Monday.

"The petition that was signed by many local people was not for my firm to be franchised but for licensing to be given on the basis of bids."

The City Council, at the November 20 meeting, approved a solid waste offer made by Thomas Disposal (EDCO).

Council was told that Bagdasarian's petition circulator had been "less than candid" in seeking signatures.

It was also reported that Bagdasarian had not supplied a financial statement nor an experience resume as required from each bidder.

At the council meeting Bagdasarian said that open competition was consistent with America's free enterprise system and had produced lower (trash collection) rates in other communities.

A City staff member said that bidders supplying required information had no difficulty in having their proposals considered. It was also said that by any name, the granting of a utility license is the granting of a franchise.

Bagdasarian said this week that he has a suit pending against the County of San Diego for not permitting open competition for refuse hauling contractors.

President Signs Nutrition Law

"Legislation recently signed by President Carter will encourage more schools to serve breakfast and will extend for four years food assistance to expectant women and new mothers and their children who are threatened by nutrition-related problems for reasons of health and low income," Assistant Secretary Carol Tucker Foreman announced.

The Child Nutrition Amendments of 1978 signed by the President increase financial aid and simplify bookkeeping for schools that serve breakfast, she said. Such schools may now combine cost records for lunch and breakfast. Schools that desire to begin serving breakfast will be given preference for the food equipment assistance funds.

The law also designates for higher reimbursement schools that serve breakfast and have a large proportion of needy children served under the school lunch program.

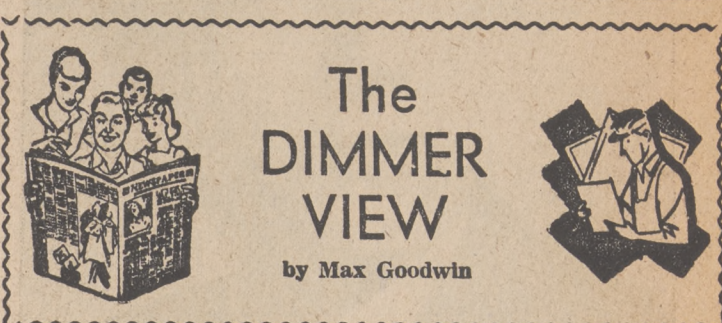

The special supplemental food program extended by the law currently provides more than one million expectant women and new mothers and their children up to five years of age with food packages tailored to their nutritional needs.

Chamber Says Housing Prices Hit $87,000

The spiraling price of single-family houses in San Diego County hit a record average of $87,800 last month, according to the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

This was a 12.3 per cent jump in the past six months—the Chamber's Economic Research Bureau reported in its monthly San Diego Economic Bulletin — and a 29.1 increase from a year ago.

These gains are less than the 15 and 34 per cent figures reported a year ago, signalling a slight slowing trend in the increase of housing.

Governor's Report Missing

Our thoughts have dwelt, from time to time, on serious charges made recently by the California Republican Party Fact Force.

Just before election day, CRPFF called a press conference in Los Angeles with 4 former senior officers of the California National Guard.

Former Guard Officers General Oscar Hurt, General Jack P. Voscamp, Major General William Pendleton and Colonel Arthur Striem were there to charge that morale in the Guard began to nose-dive when Governor Jerry Brown's hand-picked appointee, Major General Frank J. Schober, Jr. assumed command of the California National Guard in the Spring of 1975.

The most serious charges surround investigations into the activities of the Guard's former Deputy Adjutant General and No. 2 ranking officer, General Raymond Hebrank.

General Hebrank is reportedly under investigation by the Office of Special Investigations of the U.S. Air Force and the FBI for allegedly improper conduct while serving as a Colonel at the Van Nuys Air National Guard facility.

One year later, an investigation by the Guard's own Inspector General was ordered to look into General Hebrank's activities. That investigation is said to be completed and the results are on Gov. Brown's desk, but so far the Governor has refused to make the findings public, CRPFF charges.

Then Michael Montgomery, chairman of the California Republican Party sent a telegram to Governor Brown urging him to make full and immediate public disclosure of the results of the investigation "to avoid any appearance of cover-up of officers you have appointed or approved for high ranking positions within the California National Guard."

"If Gen. Hebrank is cleared of any criminal action or impropriety by this report, then the people, and mostly importantly the thousands of men and women of the California National Guard should be told," said Montgomery in his message to Brown.

"If, on the other hand, criminal or improper actions have been committed, then they should be fully prosecuted," the GOP chief declared.

Of course, this has elements of political contrivance but the question requires an answer. So far as we can learn, the answer has not been handed down although the election is 3 weeks past.

More political play came when Dr. Edward Teller, nationally respected energy expert discussed Governor Brown's energy policies with reporters in Sacramento.

"The California Energy Commission has a staff of 600 people, and a budget of $20 million this year. Yet, they have accomplished nothing."

They have used California's nuclear laws to prohibit development of atomic energy in California. This is short sighted and wrong.

"Although all of the evidence indicates that we must begin to bring nuclear power plants on line as soon as possible, the majority of the Energy Commission says no more nuclear plants," Teller said.

Then he recited a limerick for the press: "There once was a young man named Brown, who with antimog talk went to town. He promised skies blue, to me and to you. But the smog is still here and it's Brown."

Broken Tail-Light Leads To Robbery Suspect's Arrest

The young man, about 21, walked into the 7-11 Market at 10777 Jamacha blvd. in Spring Valley at 3:45 a.m. November 21.

"This is a robbery. OK?" he is reported to have said.

Even though he held a large calibre blue steel revolver, he did not threaten to use it, the clerk said. The market clerk, Mark J. Meyer of 2531 Trace rd., Spring Valley, lay down on the floor as instructed. The intruder removed $30-$35 from the drawer and fled in a tan vehicle.

Later, a deputy sheriff stopped a car near Washington and Jamacha blvd. in El Cajon because a rear tail-light was not operative on the vehicle. It was the color of the car used by the 7-11 robber.

As he explained to the youth that he had been stopped for the tail-light malfunction, police radio was giving an explicit description of the market robber. The description matched the driver of the auto.

Organ, Dishwasher Lost to Burglar

A burglar removed a Magnus electric organ and a GE electric dishwasher from her carport when Juanita Dollahite left her home at 8329 Golden ave. in Lemon Grove to attend to some shopping on November 21.

She left 3 workmen in her rear yard putting the finishing touches to her newly installed pool.

When she returned the workmen had completed their work and had gone. The organ and dishwasher had been removed between the time she left and returned. Her loss, she said, is $250.

L.G. Gets $64,508

State Controller Kenneth Cory this week announced the distribution to counties and cities of $46.6 million as the November apportionment of cigarette, in lieu motor vehicle and highway users' taxes.

Lemon Grove's share was $53,508. The City of San Marcos, often used as a comparison during Lemon Grove's pre-incorporation days, got $30,005. The City of Vista drew $64,586.

Lemon Grove got $22,795 highway users' funds; $8,602 cigarette taxes and $27,111 motor vehicle in lieu funds.

David L. Glismann

80 Voice Choir at Lutheran Church

The traditional choral concert, "Festival of Christmas," will be presented by the choral organizations of Grossmont College this Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Lemon Grove Lutheran Church.

The 80-voice Concert Choir and the 28 voices of the Chamber Chorale will be directed by David L. Glismann with Carol Cunningham, accompanist.

The Concert Choir will sing works by Renaissance and Baroque composers, Palestrina, Victoria and Sweelinck, and will include two selections each for men's choir and women's choir.

The Chamber Chorale will be joined by a string trio in a cantata by Telemann and will include the major motet by Johannes Brahms, "O Saviour, Throw the Heavens Wide."

In addition to singing traditional Christmas selections, the choirs will combine to sing "Bless This House."

The church is located at 2055 Skyline dr., in Lemon Grove. There is no admission charge to the concert. The public is invited.

Choral Singers Present Concert

The San Diego Choral Singers will present their annual Christmas Concert in the auditorium of Thearle's Music Store at 9150 Clairemont Mesa Blvd., Wednesday at 7 p.m. Ms. Phyllis Burns, well known in local music circles, is the leader of the group. The concert is open to the public and donations to the scholarship fund will be appreciated.

The featured soloist will be Cheryl Wilson, winner of last year's scholarship. One selection she will sing is "No Lullaby Need Mary Sing" by Colkey.

Selections by the San Diego Choral Singers will include the first number in the Gloria by Vivaldi, Christmas Lullaby of Joy by Jill Gallina and A Snow Legend by Joseph Colkey. The San Diego Choral Singers are sponsored by the Midway Community College Adult Center.

Human Care is Center's Mission

From childhood, most Americans are reared to believe that their national heritage requires them to be independent, self-reliant individuals. This historic legacy of our pioneer forefathers often is hard to overcome.

In adulthood, asking for help often is viewed as a personal failure. In reality, the world has changed. Families become separated; high unemployment; or other career changes sometimes necessitate moves; uprooting and self-doubts begin to show. Often in these circumstances, an individual may feel there is no one to turn to. That's where human care services such as HELP Center, a member agency of United Way, come in.

By Kyle Nelson
George had a problem.

Nothing seemed to go right for him. Nobody seemed to care. George wanted to end it all. Life seemed too lonely and empty to endure. He remembered something he once heard on the radio, "Whatever the problem, you can call 582-HELP." So he gave it a try.

Half-expecting a sermon, or someone to be shocked at his predicaments, George was pleasantly surprised when a HELP Center counselor answering his call encouraged him to talk about all the frustrations and problems which had built up over time.

The counselor urged him to clarify his feelings as they related to the circumstances surrounding his problems.

After several hours of intensive interaction, George left the phone with several things: a better sense of why he felt the way he did; an understanding of several different directions he could proceed with in his life; a listing of low-cost long-term counseling agencies; and a feeling that there are people who care.

Like George, Sue was confused and didn't know where to turn. She had been unemployed

L.G. Band Sets Concert
As Thanks to Community

Musicians from the Lemon Grove Community will present their annual holiday concert on December 14.

The Lemon Grove Band and Orchestra, under the direction of Harry Weisgerber, will present the concert as a "gift to the community for their support of the various music activities throughout the year."

The concert will be held in the Lemon Grove High School Auditorium and is open to the public. The show begins at 7 p.m.

Holiday Concert Features
Two Local Businessmen

Two local musicians will be featured in a special holiday concert presented by the Southland Music Center, December 9.

Tommy Stark and Jim Hansen, owners of the music center, will be featured together in a program that includes classical and popular organ music of the Christmas season, a short silent comedy film and an "ol' fashioned community sing-along."

The two musicians both have extensive musical backgrounds. Stark has travelled throughout the United States and Canada with Xavier Cugat. Hansen has concertized throughout the United States and is currently Director of Music at North Chapel, Naval Training Center.

LOTS A APPLESAUCE

An apple tree produces from 5 to 20 bushels of fruit a year.

for several months and had no prospects in sight. Her fears and anxieties over her jobless situation were adversely affecting everything she attempted. She had trouble sleeping nights and worried constantly about her inability to find a job to support herself.

Then Sue remembered a poster she had seen in a bus once at the HELP Center. So she dropped by one afternoon at 5559 College ave., near San Diego State U. in San Diego.

Sue was relieved when she was able to talk to a counselor immediately. She found that the relaxed, open and supportive atmosphere of the center helped ease the fears of sharing her problems.

Sue left the center with new hope. She realized that her anxieties stemmed from insecurities about job hunting skills and not from inability to perform once on a job. She also left the center with information about where to receive training to resume writing, job search techniques and interview skills, along with information about where listings of job openings can be found in San Diego. She had a new direction to pursue.

Like George and Sue, Beverly had some feelings she didn't quite know how to deal with.

Air Force Scholarships Available for Fall

The U.S. Air Force has scholarships available for students who will be entering Medical or Osteopathy school this fall, according to Technical Sergeant Artemia Esponda, U.S. Air Force Medical Recruiter in San Diego.

Benefits include: full tuition; academic fees; textbooks, supplies and $400 per month.

For an application, contact Sgt. Esponda at the USAF Medical Procurement Office, 3493 Camino Del Rio South, Suite 206 or call 293-6204 or 293-5737.

Prints to be Shown

Corita Kent, who rose to fame as Sister Corita, will unveil her latest collection of prints December 8 at the Bazaar del Mundo Gallery in Old Town.

Kent's combination of inspirational messages and vivid colors has brought her worldwide recognition.

Little or no punctuation is used in Kent's messages, yet they are easily understood. In some instances the messages are simple: "I Love You," in stark black and white. Love, one of her most consistent themes, is adapted in "Ribbons of the World."

Kent will be present at the gallery December 8 from 6-9 p.m.

Her husband of several years had suddenly deserted her and her daughter. She felt hurt, rejected and lonely. In short, she didn't know what to do. She needed somebody to talk with who could understand.

A neighbor recommended the HELP Center.

Beverly called and was gratified that the counselor was extremely supportive and really helped her to focus clearly on one only why she felt so badly, but also on what directions she could pursue to fulfill her needs in life.

Beverly left the phone with a new sense of herself and an appointment with one of HELP Center's volunteer lawyers to clarify her rights to child support. She also realized she wasn't alone.

These are some samples of the kind of problems that over 7,000 San Diegans annually bring to the HELP Center. Providing free services between 2 and 10 p.m., Monday through Friday, the center is dedicated to assisting San Diegans to overcome their problems through gaining a deeper understanding of their feelings, wants, needs and the resources available to them in the community.

But these free services would be impossible to provide without the financial assistance received through United Way and the San Diego State University Associated Students. The HELP Center is one of many San Diego County agencies helped by the UNITED WAY/CHAD Combined Campaign in its efforts to make this a better community.

Area Funeral Services

Clarence A. Dettloff

Funeral services were scheduled for last Friday at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Lemon Grove for Clarence A. Dettloff of Spring Valley who died last week in a local hospital at the age of 67.

A long time San Diego resident, Dettloff had been a registered pharmacist for 45 years. He was a member of numerous fraternal and professional organizations including the Al Bahr Temple and the San Diego Pharmaceutical Assoc.

Dettloff was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1934 and owned Dettloff Pharmacy in North Park from 1937-1963.

He is survived by his wife, Betty; daughter, Jerilyn Palmer; two grandsons, Sean and Kevin Palmer; and a sister, Pearl M. Hines of Texas.

In lieu of flowers family suggested memorials to St. Philip's Episcopal Church Memorial Fund or Spring Valley Fire Department Paramedics.

Emmet Stanley Bacon

Masonic services were scheduled for Wednesday at Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Emmet Stanley Bacon, 82, of Spring Valley, who died Sunday at a local hospital.

Born in Mayday, Kansas, Bacon had lived in this area 11 years.

Bacon was a veterinarian for 55 years and last worked for the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture as a meat inspector.

He was a life member of the Valley Center Masonic Lodge in Kansas.

Bacon is survived by his daughter, Alice Findley; 3 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren; and a sister, Alyce Payne.

Interment was at Glen Abbey Memorial Park.

There's An Answer

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR BETRAYED BY FRIENDS

Q. I'm a high school senior and very much in love with a guy. We plan to marry as soon as we are both out of school. We've been going together for four years, and all my friends know we are serious. But not long ago I found one of my best friends was trying to convince my boy friend to start going out with her. He told her no several times, but she kept at him. If that wasn't bad enough, I found out another close friend was backing her, and giving her help. I feel so bad inside. I feel as if I never want to see them again. I don't understand how they could do this. What is the Christian way to handle this? Please help me. I've never spilled my guts to anyone before; you are the first.

A. The first thing is to be glad the young man is loyal to you and has not fallen for the attempts of your so-called girl friends.

Obviously you've got yourself a good boy. Hang onto him. Don't lose your good spirit because that could change you, and he might not like a changed "you" so much.

In the nicest way possible tell your girl friends to lay off. Tell them you still want to be friends but they have to play straight with you.

If they do respond to this forthright and honest approach, don't hate them or resent them. Just get yourself some other girl friends. You will become a bigger and more loveable young woman and your boy friend will see a wonderful new person in you. Solving a problem through love is the right way to handle anything.

We have a booklet, "What To Do When," which has helped others with questions such as yours, and a copy of it is on its way to you. Anyone reading this column who wishes a free copy may write for one. Address your request to Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

CAN GOD FORGIVE THEIR DAUGHTER?

J. My 21-year-old daughter is thinking of marriage to a man who is 27 years her senior. They've been living together for over a year now. This has been very sad for me to think of daily. I pray that my girl will see how wrong this is and really ask God's forgiveness. She has also had an abortion. I know God will take her back if she wants it. Do you think so too?

A. God will always take anyone back no matter what he has done, however sinful or unwise. God continues to love any individual, hoping always that such a person will return to his senses, repent from evil and do good. Actually your daughter, in our judgment, is not only doing wrong but hurting herself. But she will have to find this out for herself, perhaps the hard way.

Just keep praying for her, keep loving her, keep on believing in her. By doing so you will release creative forces to surround her. Let us hope she will soon realize there is a higher and better plan for her and will take the first step toward this new life.

HUSBAND WILL HAVE NOTHING TO DO WITH HER

Q. I am trying to salvage my marriage. It is the second for us both. His first ended in divorce; mine when my husband passed away after 26 years of caring for each other. Three years ago my present husband began phoning and trying to bring me out of my shell. He made me care about myself once again. This man who taught me that sex at 50 can be as beautiful and fulfilling as it should have been before, this same man who gave me hope again and reason for living, began to change in a way that I couldn't believe. He asked me to sleep elsewhere, began to be critical, won't allow me to get the least affectionate, no words of endearment at any time. So what do I do? I find myself crawling back into my old shell more each day.

A. You seem to have the "shell" psychology—you crawl out of shells and back into shells. Why not drop that shell figure and just be your own normal self? It could be possible that you are over-possessing your man. This could account for his effort to reject you. Bypass the affection factor and just treat him kindly and with respect, without endearments. You may, by this process, achieve a better balance in your relationship.

And get outside the home and into other interests. Take your husband along if you can. Do things together.

December Activities Feature Party, Tour

A trip to Old Town and a Christmas party are part of Lemon Grove Woman's Club activities for December.

After a brief meeting at the clubhouse, 2810 Main st., at 9:30 a.m. the club will go to Old Town Tuesday.

Vinegar—The Condiment That's 10,000 Years Old

There is a condiment in most American kitchens that is 10,000 years old. It's vinegar.

Vinegar is the second oldest fermentation product developed by man. The oldest is wine from which the first vinegar was made.

In addition to its familiar use in salad-making, vinegar serves a number of handy purposes around the kitchen, according to home economists. Among its lesser known uses are these:

—Fried potatoes will absorb less fat if vinegar is added to the shortening or cooking oil.

—The whites of poached eggs won't spread if vinegar is added to the water.

—Hard-cooked eggs will peel more readily if vinegar is present in the cooking water.

—Fish and onion odors can be removed from your hands by rubbing them with a little vinegar.

Other uses of vinegar and salad recipes containing vinegar are available free from Heinz Wine Vinegar, P.O. Box 23, A-5, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15230. Include your name, address and zip code.

Although vinegar has served as a medicinal agent, antibiotic and cleaning compound over the centuries, its present usage is primarily in foods. French cooking employs vinegar extensively in sauces. Fish and chips call for malt vinegar. Salad dressings use vinegar as a matter of course.

The oldest vinegar historically is wine vinegar. The Babylonians made it from the wine of the date palm. Today it is made from burgundy grapes.

Garlic wine vinegar is produced from the same burgundy wine, but is subtly seasoned with garlic. This makes it ideal for antipastos, cold meats, marinating and salads in which a slight garlic taste is desired.

Salad vinegar and tarragon vinegar are called "blended vinegars." Salad vinegar is made from a special mixture of different vinegars. The taste created is complementary to salads and salad dressings. It makes a fine all-purpose vinegar as well.

Tarragon vinegar is a blend of distilled and fermented table vinegars with a spicy tarragon flavor delicately added. This goes well with salads of green, meats, eggs, or fish products.

Malt vinegar is manufactured from choice barley. It has a deep, russet color, and pungent flavor. It is popular on seafood dishes, like fish and chips, but it is also used on meat, macaroni and bean salads.

Brain Research Seminar Offered

Recent research about the right and left sides of the brain and the implication for classroom practices is the topic of a one-day conference Dec. 12 at the San Diego County Department of Education.

"Educating Both Halves of the Brain—Another Look" is the conference theme. The conference will be held from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. at the department of education on Linda Vista rd. in San Diego.

The conference is open to the public, as well as county educators. There is no registration fee, but reservations are requested by Friday, Dec. 8. School personnel will find registration forms at their schools. Others may make reservations by contacting county office curriculum coordinators Dr. Donald Hockwalt at 292-3568 or Dr. Gary Hoban at 292-3908.

Showmasters Program Is 'Almost Heaven'

Helix Showmasters will present "Almost Heaven" by Marguerite and Maude Elliott, Friday, December 8, at 7 p.m. with a repeat performance at 8:30 p.m. in the Ben Polak Auditorium, 8053 University ave., La Mesa. Admission is free.

"Almost Heaven" is a color-slide documentary on the charming island, Sri Lanka, that hangs like a pearl pendant from the tip of India.

Hospital Plans 'Holiday Bazaar'

A "Holiday Bazaar" will be presented by the Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary on Thursday, December 7, 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m., at the La Mesa Woman's Club, 5220 Wilson st., La Mesa.

The bazaar will include a boutique of hand crafted gift items, made by the members throughout the year, a baked goods section featuring homemade breads, candies and jams and this year there will also be a rummage sale.

A donation admission of $1 provides refreshments and a door prize ticket.

Proceeds from this event will go toward the purchase of needed hospital equipment to benefit the patients.

Sheri Snively 4-H National Award Winner

A 17-year-old Jansul girl, who learned how to live on a tight budget after her family's uninsured home was seriously damaged by fire, has been named a national winner in the 4-H consumer education program.

Sheri Lynn Snively, of Jamul, was among six national winners who received $1,000 scholarships at the 57th National 4-H Congress in Chicago November 26-30.

Sheri Snively

Selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, the winners were presented with their awards by Montgomery Ward & Co., sponsor of the 4-H consumer education program.

Miss Snively, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Snively, is a freshman at U.C. La Jolla and plans a career in food science or dentistry.

The San Diego County girl said that after the family's home was destroyed in a forest fire, her parents decided to remain in the country and rebuild, mainly because of her 4-H involvement.

"Since we had no insurance, our monetary outlook was rather bleak," she said. "As a result, my consumer education knowledge was put into formal practice. We were forced to 'make do' on a limited budget. It was at this point that I realized that consumer education plays an integral part in every 4-H project and every phase of a person's life," she emphasized.

She produced four slide sets and narrations on consumer education that were used as teaching aids throughout the county.

The 9-year 4-H'er gave a number of demonstrations and talks on consumer education. She learned to use her money wisely and made cost comparisons in all of her other 4-H projects.

'Gentlemen of Verona' To Air on Channel 15

The Old Globe Theatre's "Two Gentlemen of Verona," produced at the San Diego County Department of Education, will air in December on Channel 15.

The comedy, one of Shakespeare's first, will be shown Dec. 8, 8 a.m.; Dec. 15, 8:30 a.m.; and again Dec. 30 at 12:30 p.m.

"Two Gentlemen of Verona" is directed by Sandy McCallum. The two principal parts are played by Patrick McMinn and Jonathan Perpich.

Theater to Present Holiday Production

"Festival of Christmas," a dramatic presentation re-creating the spirit surrounding a Renaissance family's celebration of Christ's birth," opens tonight at the Lamb's Players' Theatre. "Festival" will run Wednesday-Saturday until December 16. Show time is 8 p.m. All tickets are $3.

Lamb's Player Kerry Jo Cederberg conceived the idea for the show and directed "Festival," the story of Englishman Benjamin Russell (Robert Smyth), who is busy celebrating Christmas in the year of 1619. This holiday season will be different than those in the past because Benjamin's wife has died within the past year. The caroling, folk dancing, games, and festivity, all consistent with and taken from the Renaissance tradition.

Fahey Named Hospital Boss

Daniel F. Fahey has been appointed administrator of the Alvarado Community Hospital succeeding Dallas E. Riddle who has joined the National Medical Enterprises, Inc. headquarters in Los Angeles and Rancho Los Amigos Hospital in Downey.

Born in West Virginia but reared in Burbank, Fahey was the administrator at Monticello Medical Center in Longview, Wash. for the past 2½ years. Prior to that, he was the assistant administrator with St. John's Hospital also situated in Longview, and Rancho Los Amigos Hospital in Downey.

A graduate of U of C Santa Barbara, Fahey received a master's degree in hospital administration from UCLA.

"I have always been interested in investor owned hospital management corporations such as National Medical Enterprises," Fahey said. "When I learned of the Alvarado Community Hospital position, I jumped at the opportunity, mainly because of the fine reputation Alvarado has in serving the local community."

Concert Set For Weekend

The final UCSD music department fall concert will be performed this Saturday and Sunday in Mandeville Auditorium at UCSD.

The concert will be performed by the La Jolla Civic/University Symphony and chorus and will feature works by Haydn, Mozart and Hindemith.

Featured soloists are soprano Jeanne Dixon and pianist Christina Ankenbrandt, last year's youth talent audition winners.

Tickets for Saturday's 8 p.m. and Sunday's 3 p.m. performances are available at the UCSD box office and at the door. Phone is 452-3229.

HOME-COOKED This Week's RECIPE

Savory Onion and Bacon Quiche

A savory onion and bacon quiche makes a gourmet dish perfect for a winter's luncheon. If the idea of attempting a quiche intimidates you, here's a recipe that makes it easy, using a prepared pie crust or mix.

You can have your onions without tears — the recipe calls for whole boiled onions that come packed in glass jars, already peeled and ready to use. The onions are available in supermarkets. Serve Onion and Bacon Quiche with easy French Fried Carrots for a meal with international flavor.

(6 to 8 Servings)

- 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
- 1 jar (1 lb.) Aunt Nellies whole onions, drained and cut in half
- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ½ cup cooking sherry
- 1 pint dairy sour cream
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 4 slices crisp cooked bacon, crumbled
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Dash white pepper
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

In large skillet, cook onions in butter over low heat for 15 minutes, stirring frequently.

Girl Scouts Get Facelift

Girl Scouts, the world's largest voluntary organization for girls, has undergone a face-lift.

The 67-year-old Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. movement has adopted a new emblem that shows a silhouette profile of girls' faces looking to the future outlined in the trefoil (three-leaf clover shape) used by Girl Scouts and Girl Guides in 100 countries.

The former emblem, identifying over 40 million Girl Scouts since 1914, had an eagle design inside the trefoil.

"The new emblem reflects the diversity and progressiveness of Girl Scout programs for 25,000 members in San Diego and Imperial Counties," Maxine Rohrbough, local Girl Scout council president, said. A 1977 public opinion survey revealed many people were not aware that Girl Scouts are completely independent and separate — in program, community financing, and administration — from any other organization.

The campaign will emphasize the contemporary aspects of Girl Scouting, including career development, conservation, increased community services, and international understanding. Traditional activities, such as camp-outs, crafts, and home living skills, will continue to be a part of the informal, educational Girl Scout program for 16,800 girls locally, 2,623,000 girls nation wide.

Recycling Effort Set for Season

For the 7th consecutive holiday season, the San Diego Ecology Centre is sponsoring "Give Earth a Gift/ Recycle the Holiday Spirit" project. The group will be recycling donated Christmas trees at sites throughout San Diego County.

An added attraction this year is an exhibit of holiday gifts and decorations made from recycled materials. The display is open to the public free of charge through December 24, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday-Friday, at the Ecology Centre's upstairs office, 334 Kalima st. in San Diego.

2,000 Baseball Executives In Orlando for Annual Meet

As many as 2,000 members of the nation's "baseball family" will convene next week for the 1973 Annual Meeting officially opening in Orlando at the Sheraton-Twin Towers.

The total tops by 400 the number which met last year in Honolulu.

In Orlando, the game's top executives from both major leagues and National Assn. will review the past year and gear up for the coming season.

As usual, trades will be a major focus of the week's business while the most significant item on an essentially light major league meeting will be discussion on a report to be given by the 10-man committee studying the possibility of dividing each league into three divisions.

The 10-man committee, formed by an agreement of the National and American Leagues at the August 16 Major League Summer Meeting to study the feasibility of three-divisional play, will make its much anticipated fact-finding report in Orlando.

Under the guidance of the committee, a task force made up of Joe Brown, former Pittsburgh general manager who now scouts for the Pirates, and Frank Cashen, former general manager at Baltimore who continues as a director of the Orioles, is interviewing each of the 26 clubs in depth to see how the new setup would affect them individually. The committee has met 3 times to review its findings and prepare to report to all ownership in Orlando.

"The 10-man committee's report obviously is of considerable interest to all of us," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. "It has required very careful and thorough study. The rest of the major league agenda is relatively free from major issues. I view that as a positive development."

While several meetings are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the convention doesn't officially get started until 10 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) Monday. The opening session will begin with a report by the Commissioner and will conclude with the Major League Draft.

National Assn. meetings, including the election of a new President on December 6, will be primarily business until December 7 when the American and National Leagues convene first for separate meetings. They will have a combined session on December 7 or 8.

The new National Association head will take over from Bobby Bragan, who will have completed his 3-year term of office. Bragan announced he will leave office to become Executive Advisor, Field Activities for Professional Baseball with headquarters at Fort Worth.

For many baseball enthusiasts the Annual Meeting traditionally means one thing—a wealth of trade activity and trade talk. For that reason alone fans everywhere will have their eyes and ears focused on the news developed through the more than 100 members of the media expected in Orlando.

Last year in Honolulu such names as Jerry Remy, Al Oliver, Bert Blyleven, Jon Matlack, Bobby Bonds, Pete Vukovich, Tim Lincecum, Willie Montanez, Ron Fairly, Jerry Morales, Jim Slaton, Ben Oglivie and Rudy May changed uniforms. In all, 22 transactions (trades and purchases), involving 53 players, were made with a number of those brand-new acquisitions heavily contributing to their clubs' 1978 effort.

Much has changed in baseball in recent years now that many players have long term contracts or have gained free agency status. But there is no indication that the trading activity won't continue to be substantial.

Yankee Champs In Puerto Rico Golf Classic

NEW YORK — Shortstop Bucky Dent, who was voted the Most Valuable Player in the World Series, and three of his champion New York Yankees teammates will play in the 13th annual American Airlines Golf Classic February 24 at El Conquistador Hotel & Country Club in Las Croabas, Puerto Rico.

Tournament chairman Randall Malin said outfielder Lou Piniella, third baseman Graig Nettles and coach and Hall of Famer Yogi Berra will be among 64 outstanding football and baseball stars in the 54-hole partner, best ball event.

First prize is $10,000, which the winning pair splits. Defending champions are Bob Tucker, Minnesota Vikings tight end, and Bobby Murcer, Chicago Cubs outfielder.

Nettles, who makes his winter home in San Diego, won this championship with Tucker in Palm Springs with a record net 165. Last year Nettles tied for fourth with Rich Saul, Los Angeles Rams center.

Berra was modest about his accomplishments. "You can say that in 10 years my most famous shot was 2 years ago when I beamed Joe (former teammate Joe DiMaggio) in the head," said the grinning Yogi. "I should get some credit for his victory with Otto Graham because after I hit him, he woke up and started to play good golf."

Jerry Pate, 1976 Titlist Joins AWSDO

Two young winners of the U.S. Open Championships and Super-star prospect Bill Kratzert have filed entries for the 12th annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament January 24-28 at Torrey Pines.

Andy North, who won the Open at Cherry Hills in Englewood, Colo. last June, joins Jerry Pate, 1976 Open titlist at the Atlanta Athletic Club, and Kratzert among early favorites to capture the $45,000 first prize here.

North, 28, also scored heavily this year with second-place ties in the Tournament of Champions and the Kemper Open as well as three more finishes among the first 10 to earn $150,398 and 14th place on the money list. The 6-4, 210-pound native of Wisconsin has made the top 60 in earnings every year since being 64th in his rookie year of 1973.

Jerry Pate

Pate, 25, set an all-time record for rookies in 1976 when he collected $153,102, capturing the Canadian as well as the U.S. Open. In 1977 he won the Phoenix and Southern Opens, but injury forced him to miss 12 weeks on the tour and he wound up only 27th in earnings.

This year, Pate returned to 10th place on the money list with a win in the Southern Open and co-runner-up honors in the PGA Colonial National and Phoenix Open. His $172,999 in earnings were boosted by being in the money 22 out of 25 events and nine top-ten finishes.

Highest on the money list of the trio is Kratzert, 26, who won $183,683 in 1978 to finish eighth. His consistency, as evidenced by 11 top ten finishes in 1977, his first full year on tour, and 12 in 1978, has led to universal predictions of greatness.

Kratzert was runner-up at the Sammy Davis-Hartford this year and shared second at Hawaii and The Memorial, winning money in 26 of 30 events and posting a scoring average of 70.93.

S.V. Youth HoopLeague Sign-Up End Nears

The Spring Valley Youth Basketball league will have final sign-ups at the Mount Miguel gym Wednesday.

The gym will be open for play at 7 p.m. Because team numbers are limited, residents of the Spring Valley Park and Recreation District are receiving first priority. The league has divisions for both girls and boys in elementary, junior high, and high school-age groups.

The S.V. Park and Recreation Board has affiliated with the YMCA and the NBA Players Assn. in a program played nationally by 175,000 youngsters last year, the Youth Basketball Assn. reported. YBA stresses skills, participation, and fair play. Contact is Ron Crosthwaite at 464-1323.

Hagey Joins School As Tennis Director

Rob Hagey, 28, oldest member of the well-known, tennis-playing Hagey family of La Jolla, has joined La Jolla Country Day School as tennis director, according to Donald R. Nickerson, headmaster.

Hagey's responsibilities include acting as tennis instructor, varsity and junior varsity coach, as well as offering private lessons to students.

Prior to joining the La Jolla Country Day facility, Hagey worked with Vic Braden at the latter's Tennis College at Rancho Bernardo, and was an instructor at the Ed Collins Rancho Bernardo Tennis College. He is currently the professional at La Jolla Village Inn, and most recently spent four months teaching tennis in Germany.

The Hagey family has won over 35 National Tennis Championship titles. Hagey's brother, Chico, is a touring professional who has played with the San Diego Friars, sister Cari, the youngest Hagey, has captured the National 12 & Under Hardcourt Championships and Suz, a senior at Stanford University, is a three-time All-American.

La Jolla Country Day School is an independent nonprofit college preparatory school for preschool through 12th grade. Recognized nationally for its academic achievement, the school maintains small classes and a distinguished faculty. Country Day is located at 9490 Genesee, La Jolla.

"The Living Christmas Tree"

You are especially invited to come and enjoy this exciting Christmas musical spectacular. It has warmed the hearts of thousands and become a tradition to many San Diego County residents. More than nine thousand men, women and children attended last year's presentation. The program is planned for all to enjoy, individuals and families alike.

The living Christmas Story is dramatically presented, accompanied by a thirty-five piece orchestra. Amazing special lighting and sound effects totally engross the audience. Over 250 singers are uniquely arranged as the scenes unfold. Soloists, small groups plus the 75 singers of the Skyline Chorale make up the cast. The 35 foot high Christmas tree is occupied by the nationally known "Skyline Concert Chorale" under the direction of internationally famous composer and director, Mr. Otis Skillings.

In order for a smooth flow and control of the hundreds in attendance, special tickets are distributed for the different presentations. For ticket information, call the Skyline church office, 460-5000. Tickets now available

Braden Readies Post-Graduate Net Courses

Reservations are now being accepted for the year-end session of The Vic Braden United States Tennis Academy (USTA), a post-graduate course in tennis instruction being held December 27-31 at the world-famous Vic Braden Tennis College at Coto de Cazo, Calif.

Conducted semi-annually, the USTA, a 5-day, 40-hour course utilizing 15 Braden-trained instructors, offers tennis coaches, and those interested in becoming coaches, the opportunity to add the USTA initials to their teaching credentials.

The tightly structured course, designed by Braden, includes tennis fundamentals, strategy, personality and learning theory, growth and development schedules, code of ethics, development and utilization of teaching aids, preparation of resumes, accounting practices and drills from private and group lessons.

The Vic Braden Tennis College, home of the USTA and the nation's most advanced tennis learning facility, features 17 geometric lanes, 24 specially designed ball machines, and 16 courts, 3 of which are color-coded to accelerate the learning process.

The unique tennis tower provides viewing on all teaching courts and 4 air-conditioned video-analysis rooms are centrally located for instant replay of court work. Off-court sessions are conducted in a multi-media classroom equipped with five projection screens, film laboratory and the most sophisticated audio-visual training equipment available.

Tuition for the Dec. 27-31 session of the USTA (excluding room and food) is $300. More information may be obtained by writing The Vic Braden USTA, 22000 Plano Trabuco Canyon rd., Trabuco Canyon, CA 92678, or by calling (714) 581-2710.

Las Vegas Sahara Sponsors $100,000 Pro-Am Tourney

LAS VEGAS—Big-time professional golf will return to Las Vegas in 1979 after an absence of two years.

Tournament director John Romero said Del Webb's Hotel Sahara will sponsor the $100,000 Sahara National Pro-Am March 22-25, featuring 27 of the world's best women golfers and 216 amateur partners.

The Sahara National format—a first for the LPGA—is similar to the renowned Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, the most popular event of its kind on the men's pro tour.

"We were looking for something different and decided on the pro-am concept to make this a more interesting and exciting tournament to the participants from all aspects," said Romero.

The participating pros will be the 70 top money winners, plus two sponsor invitees. Each will play with three amateur partners the first two days. After a 36-hole cut, the 60 surviving pro-am teams play the third round. On the final day, the pros will go it alone.

The 72-hole event will be played over two courses, the Sahara Country Club (formerly the Sahara-Nevada CC) and the Las Vegas Country Club. The Sahara has sponsored a men's pro tournament for 19 years during the fall but dropped it two years ago when the PGA refused to give the sponsor more suitable dates earlier in the year.

Edward Nigro, Sahara vice president and general manager, shared Romero's enthusiasm. "The LPGA golf tour is becoming an increasingly viable force with greater acceptance among golf fans. We're looking forward to this association."

Popular Herb McDonald, long-time associate with Romero in the conduct of men's tourneys and director of the Jack Nicklaus Memorial, has been named special projects manager.

KGB Chicken - Col Sanders To Meet at Hawks Game

If having Phoenix arrive at the Sports Arena to play PHL Hawks Friday night isn't trouble enough, there's Col. Sanders of fried chicken fame who is going to meet—who else?—the KGB Chicken.

According to Jodi Rowland, office secretary of the PHL Hawks, the Col. Sanders will be flown here from his Kentucky home to engage the chicken in a contest that might end up as a "chicken fry."

At press time the S.D. Hawks were 4th in league standings; Phoenix was 2nd. Spokane is leading the 6-team pack.

Following the Phoenix game, the Hawks are off until December 14 when the San Francisco Shamrocks play here, followed on the 16th by the Tucson Rustlers.

Hawks games are broadcast on radio KSON with Ron Oakes calling the plays.

Chargers to 'Face the Nation' At S.D. Stadium Monday at 6 P.M.

It's "Face the Nation" for the Chargers Monday night. That's when San Diego meets the Chicago Bears in a National League nationally televised game at the S.D. Stadium.

Kickoff is at 6 p.m. The game will not be televised unless it is sold out (52,586) by 6 p.m. Friday.

It will mark the Chargers' 5th appearance on a Monday night game. The Chargers have a 2-2 record.

Some highlights of the past: Oct. 12, 1970

A 14-yard field goal by Dale Livingston with 3:39 remaining gave the Green Bay Packers a 22-20 victory over the Chargers before 53,064 persons in San Diego Stadium.

Nov. 15, 1971
Dennis Partee's 45-yard field goal on the last play of the game provided a 20-17 Chargers victory over the St. Louis Cardinals before 46,486 persons in San Diego Stadium.

Nov. 13, 1972
A 47-yard touchdown pass from Mike Phipps to Frank Pitts with 41 seconds remaining gave the Cleveland Browns a 21-17 victory over the Chargers before a crowd of 54,205 persons in San Diego Stadium.

Dec. 15, 1975
The Chargers defeated the New York Jets 24-16 before 52,446 persons in San Diego Stadium. San Diego rushed for 249 yards with Rickey Young leading San Diego ball carriers with 11 yards.

Last week the Chargers' 4-game winning streak was snapped in Kansas City 23-0 giving San Diego a 6-7 record. The score was not indicative of the Chargers' strength.

For example, in the American Conference:

Lydell Mitchell is 9th in rushing (730 yards), 4th in receiving, and 1st among running backs with 45 catches.

John Jefferson is 10th in receiving—38 catches and leads rookie receivers with 8 touchdowns.

Mike Fuller is 5th with a 10.8 punt return average.

Artie Owens is 2nd in kickoff returns with a 26.2 average.

Dan Fouts is 4th with a 76.6 pass rating.

Rolf Benirschke is tied for 3rd in kick scoring—59 points.

The Chargers lead the AFC with 41 quarterback sacks, trailing NFC teams Detroit (48) and Dallas (42) and tying L.A. (41).

Season Rain Total 4.16"

The rainstorm which ended on Friday with just a trace, brought the season's rain total to 4.16 inches.

On Wednesday .39 fell, followed by .77 on Thursday.

The storm brought the season total to 4.16 inches. On the same date in 1977 the total was 2.44.

Rainfall seasons end on June 30.

GOALTENDER — Former Gulls goalie, Ken Broderick, now deeply in real estate, is shown with an Easter Seal youngster in 1973 when he was goal tender for the S.D. Gulls.

Ken Broderick Leaves Hockey For A Career in Real Estate

Can an outstanding goalie of hockey fame find happiness as a property developer and real estate salesman?

Ken Broderick says yes—emphatically.

Broderick started his professional career with the Western Hockey League Gulls in 1971 where he shared tending goals with Jack McCartin. In the '72-73 season, when he was the team's first-team goalie, he was elected WHL's Most Valuable Player—the first goal-keeper to win that honor since 1950.

Broderick has now become an investor in the development of a 10-unit condominium in North Park and an associate realtor with his friend and former Gull team-mate Jim Schraefel. He handles both residential and commercial properties.

Schraefel was right winger for the Gulls the year Broderick was named MVP.

The Broderick-Schraefel operation is at 5375 Kearney Villa rd., Suite 104, in San Diego.

Broderick, in addition to real estate ventures, occasionally supplies color for Ron Oakes, the radio voice and public relations director for the Hawks, San Diego's resident hockey team at the San Diego Sports Arena.

Broderick has an interesting hockey-related history.

He was 25 when he turned professional. Most players start at age 20.

Utes to Close Aztec Season 7:30 Saturday

The "passin'" Utes, formerly led by quarterback Randy Gomez will be San Diego State's final opponent of the 1978 football season. The game will be played at S.D. Stadium at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Although it has been a disappointing season overall for Coach Claude Gilbert's Aztecs, the team demonstrated its pride with a 27-24 upset of New Mexico here on Saturday. "It's a little late," said Gilbert, "but I hope we're finally getting it together. The New Mexico game was a big win for us. I felt afterwards like we had just won the Super Bowl."

No championship rings are at stake, but there are some milestones on the line. A win would be Gilbert's 50th as head coach at SDSU and would be his team's 17th straight win at the Stadium. On the season, the Aztecs are 4-6 overall (4 wins at home) and 2-3 in the Western Athletic Conference.

This week's foes, Coach Wayne Howard's Utes, are 7-3, 3-2 in the WAC.

Gomez has thrown for nearly 2,000 yards this year and last week completed his 18th touchdown pass, a school record. The running game is sophomore tailback Tony Lindsay, who has 707 yards. Defensive end Jeff Lyall, an all-conference choice, paces the stop troops.

The nation's third-leading passer, Mark Hadda, spearheads the Aztec attack. He is just 11 yards shy of 2,000 yards in this, his sophomore season.

KFMB Radio (760) will carry the game live at 7:10 p.m.

Two Titles Up for Grabs Tues. Night

Two titles will be on the line Tuesday when professional wrestlers congregate at the San Diego Coliseum for their series of weekly encounters.

An American Team title bout with Mexican Death Match rules brings the Twin Devils into the ring to challenge title-holders Black Gordman and Great Goliath.

In that match there can be any number of pins but the scrap isn't over until one team is unable to answer the bell.

In a bout for the American Heavyweight title bout, Bad, Bad Leroy Brown, the resident title-holder, will mix it with Chavo Guerrero.

Carlos Mata takes on the Continental Lover in a non-title bout.

Mike Hammer mixes with Del Adams in the curtain-raiser.

The program opens at 7:30 p.m. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts., downtown.

YMCA Opens Camp for Kids

Boys and girls between the ages of 7-12 will have the opportunity to spend 4 days in the mountains with kids their own age and experienced counselors through the YMCA Christmas Camp.

Located at Camp Marston in the pine mountains near Julian, the camp will be operating between December 18-22.

Campers attending Marston will live in heated cabins, trim a Christmas tree, have a party, exchange gifts, sing carols, go hiking, play games, and learn arts and crafts.

Deadline for registration is December 12. A limited number of campships are available for "less chance" boys and girls. To register, call the YMCA Camp Department at 292-0797.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

The Christmas Season certainly has a magic about it that makes you feel good, inside. People smile more and are more courteous. It's hard to be short tempered when you're wishing each other Merry Christmas.

There's something else magic about this time of year. If you've ever wanted to tell a cop where to go, this is the season for you.

Just call up the San Diego Cop Shop (236-6157) and tell 'em to go to your office, or your home, to pick up your donation for their "Operation 1,000."

Canned goods are wanted, of course, and unbroken toys. Some people even give money. Hard cash is always helpful. Just a buck or 2 from here and there and it adds up to enough to pay for Christmas dinners for more than 1,000 families suffering the daily pain of poverty.

And the toys? Whatever you give may be the only thing its new owner will get from Santa Claus this year. As a general rule, toys and such do not rate a high priority with families scratchin' out a living at day worker's rates.

Any kind of toy will do, but most of the youngsters of the scratchin' poor always seem so young it's probably safe to load up on things for kids 10 years of age and younger.

S.D. Police Sergeant Jerry Alexander, coordinator for this year's Operation 1,000 drive, says his troops will go anywhere in the county to pick up your donation. Most of the running will be done by SDP reserves, but if you can catch a regular beat cop in a free moment, he (or she) will smile and take what they can and arrange for whatever they can't carry.

"We had a call from one gentleman a few years ago that asked for an officer to come out to his home and pick up a toy," recalled Alexander. "When our unit got there, the guy had a fully assembled, brand new back yard swing set. He'd worked hours to put it all together. He was kind of heartbroken when we had to disassemble it for transportation."

Groups, as well as individuals, get into the Christmas Spirit. The San Diego Press Club will hold a canned goods and toy collection at their annual Christmas Party next week.

The Road Runner's Car Club of Lemon Grove has been collecting and will turn over all its goodies on Thursday (Dec. 14) at Winchell's Donut Shop on Broadway. Donations will be accepted from 6 p.m. until 10 p.m. Just drop by and drop 'em off.

The "Hell's Angels" of motorcycle fame have taken to collecting things and bringing them to the San Diego Police Dept. for distribution to the poor.

One can just imagine the thoughts that must have raced through the duty sergeant's head when a convoy of a dozen or so Hell's Angels' choppers roared into their parking lot unescorted.

While their "life-styles" may be miles apart, the Angels and Cops can see eye-to-eye on Christmas and certainly their gifts were welcome.

"It isn't just groups that give," says Sgt. Alexander. "We've had people drop by the (downtown) station and donate money when they looked as if they didn't know where next week's food was coming from."

"Or some father will bring in his 11-year-old son who had been saving his nickels and dimes for a bike and the kid will donate everything he has, penny by penny."

And that, in case you didn't know, is giving. That's really the Christmas Spirit.

Everything has to be in by December 15. Distribution is made on December 21 and 22. Operation 1,000 means our local fuzz tries to feed and provide toys to at least 1,000 families. Last year they served more than 1,100 families.

With your help, this year they'll serve more. Unfortunately, Sgt. Alexander and his crew are going to run out of food and toys long before they run out of poor families. Merry Christmas.

Old and New Rockets At S.D. Arena Tonight

2 consecutive victories and 5 triumphs in their past 7 games are the credentials the San Diego Clippers take into tonight's meeting with the Houston Rockets at the Sports Arena at 7:05 p.m.

The Clippers snapped a 4-game Kansas City winning streak on the Kings' home court Saturday by an 87-86 margin as Kermit Washington's two foul shots with 41 seconds remaining provided the margin of victory.

Then, head coach Gene Shue's squad came from behind to down the Boston Celtics 105-103 at the San Diego Sports Arena Sunday. Randy Smith swished a 22-foot jump shot with 2 seconds left in the game to give the Clippers their second triumph.

The Rockets tonight will feature such standouts as former Golden State great Rick Barry, Rudy Tomjanovich, Calvin Murphy, and Moses Malone. It's an explosive alignment that has produced the NBA's sixth-rated offense at 114.3 points a game.

Tomjanovich is the Rockets' top scorer with a 22.4 a game average but more importantly is the league's leading rebounder at 16.4.

As an added attraction, they'll roll back the calendar during tonight's game.

At halftime, the Clippers and Central Federal S&L Assn. will honor the members of the original San Diego Rockets team, which played in the NBA as an expansion team during the 1967-68 season. Memories of that original Rockets team will be recalled with halftime introductions and presentations. The halftime ceremonies are the climax to a 2-day reunion of the original Rockets.

Head coach Jack McMahon, now an assistant coach with the Philadelphia 76ers, will return for the reunion, along with players John Barnhill, Jim Barnett, John Block, Henry Finkel, Dave Gambee, John Green, Toby Kimball, Don Kojis, Jon McGlocklin, Pat Riley, and Art Williams, trainer Barry Wyloge, director of public relations Dick White, and scout Max Shapiro.

Saturday's Game
A variety of special events are scheduled for Saturday when the Clippers host the Detroit Pistons at the Sports Arena at 7:05 p.m.

It will be Photo Night, sponsored by Camera World, when youngsters, under 15, will have their picture taken with a Clipper.

Each youngster will receive a 5 x 7 portrait, courtesy of Camera World. Photo Night is scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m. and the players will be available for pictures until 6:15 p.m.

There will also be a Disco Dancing Party after the game.

And, it will be Toys for Tots Night. New and used toys will be accepted at the door by the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve.

'Dash' Teams Plague Vezie

Beware of the dash.

Teams with dashes in their names have traditionally represented little-known schools which are often overlooked in athletic contests. Then came teams like the U. of North Carolina—Charlotte and California State—Fullerton to shock the basketball world in recent years with victories of national magnitude.

San Diego State must play one of those "dashes" Friday as they entertain Wisconsin—Parkside at the Sports Arena at 7:30 p.m. Not many locals have heard of this tiny independent, but they have one of the top NAIA programs in the country.

Their 19-victory season of 1977-78 took them to their fourth straight NAIA Tournament appearance. 4 starters return from that team to threaten the Aztecs this year.

Coach Tim Vezie's Aztecs opened their season last Friday against Oregon in Eugene, losing 75-64. It was not a strong performance in view of the plethora of fouls and turnovers.

Some key statistics in the game tell the story: the point guards were 3-for15 with nine turnovers; the strong forwards scored two points while committing nine fouls; last year's leading scorer, Kim Goetz shot 4-for15; the Aztecs were outscored by 21 from the foul line.

Zeffie Gonzalez Antonio Adame in Fri. Main Event

Zeffie Gonzalez replaces Ricky Weigel who was to headline the card Friday night at the Coliseum. Weigel, it was reported, suffered a training camp injury Monday and will be out of action for several weeks.

Gonzalez, a junior welterweight with a 16-0-1 record, has fought mostly in the Los Angeles area. He takes on Antonio Adame, middleweight champion of Baja California. Adame has an uncertain record of fights below the border but he has won all 3 of his scraps in Gringo-land. The bout is carded for 10 rounds.

In a 5-round, lightweight bout, Eric Bonilla of Paradise Hills meets a rough-and-ready type boxer, Teddy Pineda of Los Angeles.

3 other bouts will serve as the undercard which starts at 8:15 p.m.

Women, escorted or not, and children, 14 and under who are escorted by an adult, will be admitted free Friday.

On Friday, December 8, 10 amateur bouts will be staged at the Coliseum. As it is with such programs, no charge will be made for admission. Everyone comes in free and seats are on a first come basis.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts., downtown.

SDG&E Declares Stock Dividends

San Diego Gas & Electric has declared dividends on its preferred and preference stocks, and reported lower earnings for the 12 months ending October 31.

The company reported earnings of $2.23 per share of common stock for the 12 months ended October 31. At the end of September, the 12 months earnings were $2.33 per share. SDG&E's earnings for the 1977 calendar year were $2.32 per share.

The earnings decline is due primarily to the institution of a gas supply adjustment mechanism by the California Public Utilities Commission on October 15. The new procedure will have the initial effect of substantially reducing the company's interdepartmental profits from the sale of natural gas for power plant fuel. However, the procedure assures that the company will earn the gas utility operating margin determined in its most recently completed rate case.

SDG&E's pending current general rate case, filed in May, requests $95.5 million in additional annual revenues. More recently, on October 31, the company filed with the CPUC for a $59.9 million partial rate increase, to become effective in January.

Accountants Hold Seminar on Taxes

The San Diego East County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will conduct a tax seminar in conjunction with their monthly dinner meeting to be held at Sexton's Steak House in La Mesa on December 12.

The seminar, which starts at 4 p.m. with a break for dinner, will feature Al Logan of Ernst and Ernst, speaking on the California gift and inheritance tax and community property changes.

Anyone interested in attending the seminar/dinner is asked to contact Carmel M. Viegas at 448-3111.

14 Local Students In '78 'Who's Who'

14 local youths have been chosen for the 12th annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Students are nominated for recognition by their principals, counselors, groups or churches.

Lemon Grove students are: Steven Cox, Joseph Craig and Bob Osorio.

Spring Valley: Thomas Adema, Linda Baldwin, Michael Barletta, Toi Blake, Eric Franke, Jeffrey Johnston.

And: Linda Knapp, Shamus McLaughlin, Timothy Rowland, Thomas Shughrue and Mark Sutherland.

Martin, Becall in 'Nutcracker'

Keith J. Martin, director of the San Diego Ballet, will star with prima ballerina Teresa Becall in this year's performance of the "Nutcracker" at the Civic Theatre.

Martin was formerly with the Royal Ballet of England before coming to the United States as a principal dancer with the Pennsylvania Ballet and the San Francisco Ballet. He joined the San Diego Ballet in 1976 and under his direction the Ballet has continued to grow from a small regional company to a nationally recognized company.

The Christmas performance of the "Nutcracker" with its familiar music by Tchaikovsky, will be performed at the Civic Theatre at 8 p.m., December 14, 15, 16 and 17 with matinees the 16th and 17th at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are on sale with discounts available for students, senior citizens and active military.

The San Diego Ballet number is 239-4141.

S'western Presents Christmas Program

The Southwestern College Concert Choir and Chamber Singers will present a Christmas Concert Sunday, December 10, 4 p.m. in Mayan Hall. The program includes "Jubilate Deo" written by the Renaissance composer Giovanni Gabrieli, and "The Christmas Story" by the contemporary American composer Ron Nelson. A brass ensemble and organ will accompany the choir.

Blind Singer-Guitarist Guest of Symphony SD

Internationally acclaimed singer-guitarist, Jose Feliciano will be the special featured soloist, when he guests with the San Diego Symphony Orchestra at Golden Hall in San Diego on December 19th.

The blind, Puerto Rico born, 2-time Grammy Award winner has had such hits as "Light My Fire," "California Dreamin'," and his theme from "Chico and the Man." Jose, who has 32 Gold Records to his credit, has long been recognized as one of the finest contemporary guitarists in the world.

He recently appeared as the special featured soloist with the Dallas, Denver, Atlanta, Oakland and Los Angeles symphony orchestras.

Changes in Income Tax Laws Still Being Studied by IRS

Telephone calls from Southern California taxpayers have increased significantly since President Carter signed the Revenue and Energy Tax Acts of 1978, according to an Internal Revenue Service official.

Tom Grace, Chief of the Taxpayer Service Division in Southern California, said revisions in the tax law have raised many questions that local IRS offices are not presently equipped to answer. "Taxpayers are requested to limit their calls to the IRS inquiring about changes in the tax laws until the IRS has had time to analyze the Acts and determine their impact for the 1978 filing season," said Grace.

"Our study is expected to be completed within the next several days. Taxpayers should follow their local news media for announcements about the changes. Once the analysis is complete, taxpayers may rely on our local offices for guidance and explanation of the new provisions," Grace said.

"Although some of the revisions will affect the design of the 1978 forms, taxpayers can still expect to receive their returns packages through the mail on time," Grace noted.

Grace added that some of the major areas affected by the new laws for 1978 individual income tax include a more liberal break for persons age 55 or older who sell their principal residence and a provision to allow taxpayers to exclude 60 per cent of a capital gain from ordinary income tax.

The Energy Tax Act provides a 15 per cent credit for installation of insulation and other energy-conserving improvements made to a taxpayer's residence. The credit is allowed on cumulative total expenditures of $2,000, for a $300 maximum total credit. Credits for 1977 and 1978 are to be taken on 1978 tax returns since the credit is effective as of April 20, 1977.

$1.7 Million Given To DOT Program

The federal government has given the state department of transportation $1.7 million as part of a continuing program to provide transportation for elderly and handicapped citizens.

The funds will be used to pay 80 per cent of the cost to purchase vehicles and related equipment for private and non-profit organizations who aid the handicapped and elderly.

Organizations interested in the program should contact Carol Boland in the Caltrans office at 4075 Taylor st., 294-5076.

VFW Brunch to Aid Community Swim Pool

A special Brunch to benefit new youth programs will be held Sunday at 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The brunch, hosted by the Mission Valley Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies Auxiliary, is open to members and guests.

The ladies auxiliary each year assists local youth interests such as the Little League programs in the area. Auxiliary members have announced that they are assisting with the construction of the San tee Community Swim Pool which "will be a convenience to children in this area who do not have easy access to other community pools."

Sunday's brunch will cover the usual breakfast items as well as some special "treats" members said. Donations of $2.50 per person are requested for the event which will be held at the Post Home, 4370 Twain ave., San Diego.

Strict Fed. Control Seen for Wilderness

A federal wilderness study may exclude most of the public from land in the southeastern one-quarter of California, warns the California Mining Association (CMA).

Use of adjacent private land also could be hampered if the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) sets aside huge tracts of land it manages for wilderness study, the CMA says, adding that the tracts inventoried for possible study include large areas of privately held lands that could effectively be precluded from development.

A large part of the 12.5 million acres the BLM manages within the California Desert Conservation Area (CDCA) has been identified by the bureau as having "wilderness values". Protection of those areas selected for further study could begin as soon as March 30, sharply limiting both the kind and degree of access permitted. Once selected for study, the areas will be managed so as not to impair their suitability for preservation as wilderness. Existing land uses will be regulated and new uses, depending on their impacts, can be prohibited.

The BLM is soliciting public input during the development of its desert plan. Comments should be directed to the bureau's district office, 1695 Spruce St., Riverside, CA 92507.

WORLD FUEL PRICES CAN'T BE CONTROLLED. SO SDG&E ANNOUNCES A FIVE-POINT PLAN TO KEEP YOUR WINTER HEATING COSTS UNDER CONTROL.

1. INSULATION.

Nothing gives you a faster payback in terms of heat savings than certified R-19 ceiling insulation. It's the basis of any energy and money saving plan. SDG&E can arrange to have it installed for you professionally, and certified, or ask for our do-it-yourself brochure.

2. WEATHERSTRIPPING AND CAULKING.

More winter cold than you think slips through cracks around windows and doors. SDG&E will be happy to advise you on places in your home where weatherstripping will do the most good.

3. WATER HEATER BLANKET.

Your hot water heater is a big energy user, especially in the winter if it sits outdoors or in a cold garage. But you can bundle it up yourself in an SDG&E insulation blanket that will help keep your energy budget out of hot water.

4. ATTIC VENTILATION.

Attic moisture can do a lot to cut the efficiency of your ceiling insulation, so winter ventilation is important. (Mechanical ventilating systems, such as turbine vents, are usually supplemental to building code requirements and should be deactivated during the heating season.)

5. NIGHT SETBACK THERMOSTAT.

It turns the heat down or off when you go to bed, back up or on again in the morning automatically. So you never waste heat while you're asleep. Do-it-yourself and professionally installed models are both available. Let us fill you in on this important part of the Passive Heating System.

Fuel prices are up this winter. This means higher prices for all the fuel you use, from gas for your car to natural gas and electricity for your home. SDG&E knows five ways you can keep those winter heating costs under control. They work together to form what we call the Passive Heating System. Some of the elements you can probably install yourself. Some you may need professional help with. SDG&E's five-point energy check will help you get started on beating the cost of winter heat.

Send in the coupon and we'll send out a qualified Conservation Consultant to give your home a free five-point energy check. Do it today, before winter puts the bite on your budget.

'Christmas on the Prado' A County-Wide Happening

A special Christmas celebration, for which the Museums of San Diego have combined all their creative energy and ideas, will happen 6-9 p.m., during the first "Christmas on the Prado" celebration in Balboa Park December 8 and 9.

The holiday atmosphere will prevail both inside the reduced admission museums and outdoors on the Prado.

Additionally, the Museum gift shops will be open with Christmas items from around the world and above and below the earth!

Indoors, the museums will offer holiday activities. At the Museum of Man, craftsman Rita Benson, an Inuit mask and doll maker will appear, and Polish noodles and "piroschke" (holiday dumplings) will be served, along with special French quiches. Laotian needlework will also be demonstrated.

A huge tent will house the S.D. Historical Society on the site of the Electric building. American crafts and photos and memorabilia from the 1915 Exposition will be on display.

A unique array of live Christmas trees will be displayed at both the Natural History Museum and the Museum of Man. The trees include the Cedars of Lebanon, Russian Pines, Chir Pines, and Coast Redwoods.

At the Hall of Champions, an exhibit honoring San Diego's first Holiday Bowl football game will be displayed, with personal appearances by some of San Diego's athletes including the Padres' short stop, Ozzie Smith, and Alan Mayer, San Diego Socker goalkeeper. HoC will also present champion exhibitions of badminton, by Rod and Carlene Starkey, national titleholders, and one of gymnastics.

Free admission to the Science Center and a 20 per cent discount on planetarium shows will be offered at the Reuben H. Fleet Space Theatre.

Artist Douglas Knutson's one-man show will highlight the San Diego Art Institute events, along with a "Greetings From" exhibition of the self-portraits of member artists.

Entertainment — free and "happening" both in and out-of-doors along the Prado, will add additional sparkle to the brilliantly lit and decorated Prado.

Two traditional Christmas films, "Paddington Bear" (continuously at the Museum of Man) and "Miracle on 34th Street" (7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Museum of Art) will be shown.

At the Old Globe Theatre, a dramatic presentation of the Dylan Thomas classic, "A Child's Christmas in Wales" will be performed amid the ruins of the Old Globe stage. The Old Globe will also present madrigal singers and carolers, plus holiday sweets and pastries.

Caroling will also take place — non-stop on the steps of the Natural History Museum.

"Strawberry the Clown," the "El Capitan Chamber Singers," "Rejoice," the "Midison High School Honor Ensemble," Russell Bloom on the banjo, Dave Baumbach, a mime and juggler; and the Sweetwater High School Choraleers, will lend their talents to spirited holiday presentation on an on-going basis throughout the event.

At the Cafe del Rey Moro, a traditional Christmas dinner will be served 4:30-6:30 both evenings for $3.25. Santa will be on hand for all the youngsters. String trios will provide entertainment at the Art Institute and Timken Gallery.

Parking in 4 designated areas will give visitors easy access to the Prado. The areas are at the Organ Pavilion, Alcazar Gardens, San Diego Zoo (from which the Boy Scouts will serve as escorts to the Prado) and the Space Theatre.

"Christmas on the Prado" is a first-time joint event by the combined museums of San Diego, undertaken to provide San Diegans with a holiday experience.

COMMUNITY CENTER — Construction is scheduled to begin in February on the $700,000 Spring Valley community center building on Jamacha boulevard adjacent to the Spring Valley park. The 9,000 square foot building on a 1.6 acre site was designed by Donald R. Goldman & Associates. The building will contain a large multi-purpose space for athletic activities, classes, meetings and theatrical events as well as a kitchen, offices and health clinic. A large playing field surrounded by family picnic areas will be adjacent to the building.

Solar Energy Tax Credit Certificates Now Available

The State Department of Consumer Affairs offers sample warranties for use by manufacturers and installers of solar energy equipment in California.

The need for sample warranties by the solar energy industry has resulted partly from legislation adopted in 1977, offering consumers a solar energy tax incentive.

The state now allows a solar tax credit of 55 percent (up to $3,000) of the cost of a solar system for a home. If a solar system is installed in a building other than a single family residence, and the cost is more than $6,000, the tax credit is 25 percent or $3,000, whichever is greater.

The solar tax credit, not merely a deduction, is directly subtracted from the income tax owed after all calculations are completed. If the tax credit is greater than the total income tax bill, unused credit is carried to following years, until full credit is received.

The tax credit applies to the 3 most common uses of solar energy—domestic water heating, swimming pool or hot tub heating, and space conditioning (heating and cooling). It also applies to any system installed between January 1, 1977 and December 31, 1980.

To qualify for the 55 percent tax credit, solar equipment must have at least a three year life span and be warranted by both the manufacturer and installer. Those warranties must protect consumers against defects in materials, workmanship, and installation. Solar collectors, storage and fluid circulation components must be undertaken before investing in a solar system.

For those consumers who have already purchased solar energy equipment or insulation and are experiencing problems, the Department has established a complaint mediation service. For details of this service, buying tips, solar information, or copies of the warranty samples, consumers or industry members should contact:

Young People's Concerts Add 4th Series for '78-79

Because of great demand from the children of San Diego County, the San Diego Symphony Orchestra has agreed to extend Young People's Concerts to a 4th series for this year. These will be identical concerts to those previously scheduled.

Series D will be:
Tuesday, December 5, "Music From Many Lands";
Friday, February 2, "Let's Tell Musical Stories";
Tuesday, April 3, "Let's Look at Music";
Friday, April 20, "Music That Is Popular."

The concerts all will begin at 10 a.m. and will last 45 minutes.

Tickets are on sale now in the Symphony Office, House of Hospitality, Balboa Park, or by mail to Young People's Concerts, P.O. Box 3175, San Diego, CA 92103.

Prices for the series of four concerts are $5 for students and $10 for adults with one complimentary ticket given for each 10 student tickets sold.

Include in orders name, address, phone number, school and number of tickets desired. Make checks payable to San Diego Symphony Orchestra.

For more information, Janet Jenkins, Symphony Office, 239-9726.

Senior Tax Postponement In Decline

Only 4,143 senior citizens have taken advantage of the State's property tax postponement program since the filing period began six months ago. This is a two-thirds decline from the total claims filed last year with the Franchise Tax Board.

To postpone property taxes, homeowners must be 62 or older, occupy their residence, and have $21,500 or less total household income. When the owner postpones paying his taxes, the State places a lien against the property for the amount postponed and charges seven percent interest, payable on sale or transfer of the property.

James Gentz, assistant executive officer of the department speculated on several possibilities for the decrease. The Proposition 13 tax reduction may have eliminated some homeowner's need for postponement, others may believe the program has been terminated, and others who filed last year may not be aware that they must renew their claims each year.

Dinner to Honor Supervisor Taylor

Lee Taylor will be honored for his 6 years of community service as San Diego County Fifth District Supervisor at an appreciation dinner tonight at Vacation Village Convention Center, according to dinner chairman Ray Ehly.

Taylor is retiring from the Board of Supervisors at the end of his present term in January. He was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board in August 1973, and then was elected for a full term in November 1974.

Prior to his service as a County Supervisor, Taylor was active in the San Diego County building industry for 30 years. He owned Taylor and Sloan, Inc. and Taylor and Sloan Construction Co., which have since been dissolved.

Taylor's career in construction grew out of his World War II service as a Master Sergeant in a construction battalion. He was commissioned in the field and returned as a Company Commander.

During his 6 years as Fifth District Supervisor, Taylor has been the Board's representative to the North San Diego County Transit Development Board, Watershed Fire Council of S. Cal., Health Systems Agency Governing Board, S.D. Human Care Advisory Board, and the Committee on the Conservation of Las Colinas.

Throughout his private and public career Taylor has been an active supporter of Little League, Boys Clubs and Girls Clubs.

The 7:45 p.m. appreciation dinner will be preceded by no-host cocktails at 6:30 p.m. Reservations can be made by calling the Construction Industry Federation at 299-5363.

Club to Donate 'Tree of Love'

The Spring Valley Woman's Club is participating in the 1st annual "Tree of Love" program, being sponsored by Wickes Furniture.

Members of the club, working under the theme of "UFO Project; Unidentified Fired Objects," will be decorating a Christmas tree which will be delivered to some group in the community who might otherwise not have a Christmas.

14 other women's clubs throughout San Diego County are decorating trees which will be trimmed on Tuesday and displayed publicly until December 8.

The trees will be delivered by Santa Claus and two helpers from the San Diego Ballet. Teresa Bacall, prima ballerina in her role as the Sugar Plum Fairy and her companion, the Nutcracker will be delivering tickets to the Nutcracker ballet along with the trees.

SD Municipal Court Names Hanscom Presiding Judge

The Judges of the San Diego Municipal Court have unanimously elected Judge Richard J. Hanscom to be their Presiding Judge for the calendar year 1979.

Hanscom has been a judge for more than 6 years. Before being appointed to the bench he was in the District Attorney's office for 13 years, serving as Chief Deputy District Attorney for two years.

Hanscom is on the Executive Board of the California Judges Association, and is secretary-treasurer. For a number of years he has been Chairman of the Bench/Bar Media Committee for San Diego County. His civic activities include the Board of Directors for the Girls Club of San Diego and he was recently elected Trustee of the Natural History Society.

Hanscom is a resident of Pacific Beach, is married and has two children.

He said that "the next year should hold a great challenge to the Municipal Court as the jurisdictional limit in civil cases has been increased to $15,000."

At the present time, civil cases are getting to trial within four to six weeks of the time the parties announce they are ready for trial, and the Court expects to hold to this time limit, he said.

YOU AND YOUR PET

Grooming Your Horse

Grooming your horse provides a number of benefits besides a good-looking mount. Brushing stimulates circulation, distributes oil from glands under the skin, and maintains muscle tone. It also gives you a chance to get to know your horse a little better. Properly done, a good grooming job takes a least a half hour, and is hard work.

For a novice, the tendency is to start with the back and sides and work down toward the feet. Unfortunately, by the time the feet have been reached, fatigue may have set in and the temptation becomes great to rush to finish the job. This can be a costly error; foot trouble in a horse can be an expensive illness to correct. So begin grooming the feet while you're fresh.

To start, face your horse, lean your shoulder against his left side, and push against him. The pressure will become a cue for him to pick up his foot. Until he gets the idea, slide your hand down the leg and pull up the hoof. Hold the hoof at the level of your knee and use a pick (a special pointed tool) to dig out all foreign matter until the entire sole becomes visible.

Each hoof should be carefully cleaned so there is no debris to bruise the "frog," the soft undersurface of the hoof. As you work, check for a foul odor or flaking of the frog. These are signs of thrush, a condition that develops after a horse stands in a damp, dirty stall or muddy pasture for a long time. A horse with an undetected case of thrush will rapidly go lame and need veterinary attention.

After you finish the horse's feet, gather together the basic tools you will need for grooming the body: currycomb, dandy brushes, sponges and toweling.

The currycomb is used to remove dirt from the horse's coat. Start behind the ears at the left side (usually called the "near" side) and move the currycomb against the lay of the hair to bring the dirt to the surface. Progress down the neck and toward the tail until most of the coat is free of dirt.

Pay special attention to areas where riding tack rubs against the skin — behind the ears, the middle back, the middle belly and between the front legs.

For tender areas like the face, rear belly and legs below the knee, a softer brush (the dandy brush) is necessary. A stiff dandy brush can also be used to smooth out the mane and tail.

After you have gone over the entire skin surface with a dandy brush again to remove any soil left behind, spread the skin's natural oil through the hair with a soft clean towel.

Last wipe around the eyes and nose with a small damp sponge. Use a second sponge to wipe down the dock, or area at the base of the tail.
